Patricia Stevenson Gingrich, writing as Patricia L Stevenson, had her book South of 30° North recently published. The book is a collection of fifty-three poems that could just as well have been called “the Florida poems.” The majority of the poems could only have been written by a Florida native or by someone who has lived in Florida most of their life. It is more about the viewpoint than the subject matter, though that is often thoroughly Floridian! More details of the book and Ms. Stevenson can be found at www.facebook.com/WildHeronPress .
